

Ken retired to Bear Mountain after a long career in the oil and gas industry and having lived in many different locations in Canada. Having grown up in Vancouver, he always wanted to move back to the West Coast and enjoy all that it has to offer.

Ken and his wife have 2 grown sons and 2 young grandchildren. He enjoys time with family and grandkids, cooking, walking, hiking, and travel.

He joined the BMCA to help give back to the community in any way he can.
